THE

REPORTER'S DICTIONARY,

BASED ON PHONOGRAPHY.

IN PRESS and shortly to be published, a book with the above title, prepared by the subscriber, who has had nearly 20 years practice in Phonographic writing, having been at one time employed as an official reporter in the United States Senate, and, who has been for the last seventeen months, and is now, reporter of the Atlanta Intelligencer.

The Dictionary will contain indications, by means of a simple nomenclature, for writing with Phonographic letters, about 20,000 words of the English language, of ninety-nine one-hundreths of those in common use—the remaining words being easily written after these are learned.

In the Introduction to the Dictionary, simple instruction will be given for beginners of the study of Phonography, with lithographed illustrations, prepared by one of the best artists in the Confederacy. The object of the publication is to make a STANDARD for Confederate Reporters, and to render it possible for the much coveted and beautiful art of Reporting, to be learned even without the aid of a teacher.

As the work will be expensive, new type having been procured expressly for it, only a small edition will be issued. Those who desire copies are requested to send to the author their orders at once, (to be recorded,) accompanied with the price of the same, which will be five dollars per copy. The book in paper cover, and suitable for use, will be sent to all subscribers, by mail, without additional expense: A. E. MARSHALL,

CLAIMS

Deceased Officers and Soldiers.

WILSON, N. C., June 20th, 1864.

THE UNDERSIGNED has been appointed a Commissioner to investigate, collect and pay over to the parties entitled thereto, all claims for bount, arrearages of pay and allowances, due to the representatives of deceased officers and soldiers from this State.

The parties entitled are: first, the widow of the deceased, if any. If there be no widow then, secondly, the child or children, if there be such, if there be neither widow or children then, thirdly, the father, if there be neither widow, child, children or father then, fourthly, the mother of the deceased, and in default of all of these then, fifthly, the Executor or administrator of the deceased.

The claimant or claimants must furnish his, her or their affidavit, and that of one disinterested witness as to the relationship, and in all cases, where the claimant is not the widow, the affidavit must negative the existence of a claimant or claimants of a higher order. The Justice of the Peace, before whom the affidavit is subscribed must certify to the credibility of the witness, and Clerk of the County Court must certify, under the seal of the Court, that he is a Justice of the Peace.

If the claimant or claimants be a child or children of the deceased, and he, she or they be minors, the claim must be propounded by his, her or their guardian, and the fact of his being guardian must be certified to, under seal of the County Court Clerk.

When the claim is made by an executor or administrator, the fact of the executorship or administratorship must be certified to, under seal by the County Court Clerk.

All of these papers should be sent in duplicate.

Any person directly interested will be furnished, upon application to me, with a proper form of these papers in full; a copy of which, for the greater convenience of parties, will be forwarded as soon as may be practicable to each County Court Clerk.

This commission is intended to facilitate the collection of these claims, and save the claimants all expense.

Parties interested may materially aid me in the investigation of their claims, if at the time of forwarding their paper to me, they will inform me of the date of the death of the deceased, where he died, was killed, whether or not they or any one for them, have received the personal effects which deceased had with him at the time of his death, and whether or not the deceased (if a non-commissioned officer or private,) had ever received the state's bounty.

It is very desirable that all claims should be forwarded at as early a day as may be practicable. In all cases, give the claimants' Post Office and County in full.

JNO. A. STANLY,
129-tf Commissioner.

TO THE FRIENDS OF THE SOLDIERS throughout the Confederacy

QUARTERMASTER GENERAL DEPARTMENT
RAILROAD BUREAU
RICHMOND, Feb. 20th, 1864

THE friends and relatives of soldiers in the Army of Northern Virginia are hereby notified that an arrangement has this day been effected with the SOUTHERN EXPRESS COMPANY, to carry all packages of food and wearing apparel to Richmond, Va.

To secure the advantages thus obtained through the express company, the following instructions must be observed:

Packages must not contain more than one hundred pounds; be well secured, and plainly marked and sent at the expense of the shipper to either of the Soldiers' Relief Associations which are located as follows:

In North Carolina, at Raleigh; in South Carolina, at Columbia; in Georgia, at Augusta; in Alabama at Montgomery; or at any other point at which one of these Associations have an office.

The Agents of these Associations will there take charge of them, and ship daily, by Southern Express Company, to the proper Agents of the respective States at Richmond, who will see them distributed to the proper individual owners.

To meet the wishes of the soldiers, and to give them a certain and speedy communication with home the Southern Express Company has agreed to give this freight preference over everything else: and in order that no obstacle may occur to the success of so laudable an enterprise, the several Railroad Companies are hereby requested to render the Express Company such facilities as will enable it to make this arrangement a complete success.

As the Southern Express Company assumes all responsibility of the transportation of those packages, the Relief Associations are requested to withdraw their Agents who have heretofore acted as traveling messengers. If the Relief Association will establish agencies in the rear of there armies, they may enjoy the same privileges hereby secured to the Army of Northern Virginia.

F. W. SIMS,
Lieut. Col. and Quartermaster.

FROM LEE'S ARMY.

GOLDSBORO, Sept 13.—The State Journal has the following from Plymouth: Pilot Hopkins, C. S. Ram Albemarle, with eight sailors, and eight soldiers captured and burned, on the 9th, the U. S. mail steamer Fawn, plying between Norfolk and Roanoke Island, killed 2 yankees, wounded four and captured 19 prisoners, exclusive of five negroes. The prisoners included a Lieut. Col., a Major, and a Lieut. and corporal No loss on our side.

RICHMOND, Sept. 16.—The obsequies of Genl. MORGAN took place to-day.—The remains were conveyed to Hollywood Cemetery, and placed in a Vault. The cortege included a number of military and civic officials.

RICHMOND, Sept. 16.—New York papers of the 14th have been received.—The railroad between Nashville and Chattanooga has been repaired, and the trains are running. The Railroad trains near Bardstown were captured by the Guerillas on Monday.

The Tribune says that the Republicans carried Maine by a larger majority than was ever given at a Gubernatorial election. They gain a member of Congress—have elected five-sixths of the Legislature.

Park Benjamin died in New York on Monday. Gen. Thomas T. Meagher has been ordered to report for duty to Sherman. Gen. Martindale, of the Army of the Potomac has resigned.

The draft is ordered to commence in Ohio and other States whose quota shall not be filled up on the 19th inst.

Several journals formerly Republican have come out in favor of McCLELLAN.

The Cincinnati Times and Albany Statesman, both Republican, predict the defeat of Lincoln and urge his withdrawal.

The Boston Post says, it is a great relief to the Democrats, to be rid of such an incubus as the Woods, and says if Vallandigham chooses to follow them, he will have a rough road to travel.

Gov. Seymour peremptorily declines the renomination for Governor.

Gen. Hooker advocates the election of McClellan.

Seward, in his speech at Washington said that the draft would surely come if the people did not volunteer.

It is reported that the rebels are concentrating at the mouth of Red river.

Gold opened at 218, advanced to 228, and closed at 224

RICHMOND, Sept. 16.—Official notice is given that long date non-taxable bonds will be withdrawn from the market on the 20th and held at higher rates Persons holding claims against the Government for supplies or stores are notified to present their claims if they wish those bonds in payment at present prices.

RICHMOND, Sept. 16.—A skirmish line of 88 men of Warren's corps was surprised and captured near Davis' House, on the Weldon road, this morning in front of Wilcox's Division. The prisoners have arrived here. With this exception there is nothing interesting from the line to-day.

The enemy renewed their shelling this afternoon, throwing several 15 inch mortar shells, loaded with glass, brass, copper, iron and lead, fell in the city, but did no damage. Our troops are in fine spirits and eager for the fight.

RICHMOND, Sep. 16.—The Baltimore Gazette of the 14th contains an article from the New York News of the 13th, indicating a determined opposition to McClellan by that journal. The News says we covit sincerely and ardently the unity of the Democracic party, but cannot council and will have no part in its demoralization and disgrace. The Courrier Des Etats Unis, also withdraws from the support of McClellan.

Sherman has strictly prohibited persons not in military service, from entering Atlanta Neither manufacturing nor trading is permitted in the city, except exclusively for military purposes.

YANKEE LOSSES.—Yankee papers admit a loss of 3,000 in the recent engagement on the Weldon Railroad.

BY THE GOV. OF NORTH CAROLINA

A PROCLAMATION!

WHEREAS, IT IS REPORTED TO ME that many soldiers from the troops of this State have deserted their colors and comrades, and are now lurking in the woods and mountains, some of them subsisting by forcing their friends to violate the laws by aiding them and others by violent depredations upon peaceable citizens, entailing shame and obloquy upon themselves and their posterity, outraging the laws and the peace of society, and damaging the cause of their hard pressed country.

And, whereas, Gen. Robert E. Lee, in General Order No. 54, Aug. 10th, 1864, has promised to deal leniently with all who promptly return to duty, though they may have incurred the penalties of desertion by prolonged absence without authority. Now, therefore, I, Zebulon B. Vance, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do issue this my proclamation, urging most earnestly upon all such misguided men to wipe out from their once respected names the foul stain of desertion by promptly returning to the post of duty in accordance with said General Order No. 54, promising to all such who voluntarily return or surrender themselves to the proper authorities a full and free pardon, or the infliction of only the mildest penalties of the military law, except those who have been guilty of capital felonies against the lives and property of the citizens, and this promise shall hold good for thirty days from the date hereof. And I hereby warn all such who refuse to comply with these terms that the utmost power of this State will be exerted to capture them or drive them from the borders of a county whose high honor and spotless renown they disgrace by refusing to defend, and that the extremest penalties of the law will be enforced without exception when caught, as well against their aiders and abetters in the civil courts. Simultaneously with this proclamation orders will issue to the entire militia of the State to turn out for their arrest, and I hope by timely submission they will spare me the pain of hunting down like guilty felons many brave and misguided men who have served their country well and could do so again. Deserters from other States who hide in our woods and assist in giving our State a bad name, I can do nothing for, but to the erring soldiers of North Carolina I confidently appeal. And I earnestly call on all good citizens to assist me in making this appeal effectual, both by their influence as men, to take pains to seek out all deserters of their acquaintance, put this proclamation in their hands, or in the hands of their relatives and friends, and urge upon them to return to the path of duty, which is also the path of safety and of honor. If every good and loyal cititizen would set about to reclaim or capture one deserter by every means in his power, he would succeed and he will have rendered a most valuable and patriotic service to his State and country. Civil magistrates are also exhorted to be diligent in proceeding against all such as violate the statute against harboring, aiding or abetting deserters; and warning is hereby given that in all cases where either civil magistrates or militia or home guard officers refuse or neglect to faithfully perform their duty in this respect, upon proper evidence submitted to me, the Executive protection extended to them under acts of Congress shall be withdrawn, as I cannot certify that officers, civil or military, who refuse to perform their duties are "necessary to the due administration of the laws," which they will not execute.

Given under my hand, and the great seal of the State, at Raleigh, this 24th day of August, 1864

Z. B. VANCE.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., SEP'T. 17. 1864.

☞ Our Subscribers in town will confer a special favor, when they fail to get their papers, by informing us immediately of the fact. Of course we cannot know when it occurs unless this be done.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION IS CALLED TO THE FOLLOWING.—The publishers of this paper desire that their terms be fully understood. All subscriptions must be paid in advance. Payment must be made at this office, or, if to a collector, ten per cent. additional will be charged. Our Collector will call weekly on delinquents and make collections, when, in every instance, the above rule will be adhered to Collections made every Monday.

NOTICE.—C. C. McCRUMMEN, Esq., is our authorized agent to receive moneys and receipt for us in all business matters connected with this office, which relates to subscription and advertising.

DISPOSED TO FEEL GLOOMY.—Our people are somewhat cast down by the late not very cheering news which, as faithful chroniclers of events, we are bound to publish. We admit that we had reverses of a kind calculated to protract the war, but we respectfully submit that our reverses are not such as should produce despondency. Atlanta has fallen, and although we are not disposed to rate it as some of our cotemporaries have, on a par with Weldon as a place of importance, still we are far from admitting that the loss of Atlanta is the loss of the cause; nor is it the loss of Georgia. Our Government will wake up after a while and Atlanta will be avenged. When the Government shall go to work in earnest to fill up the ranks of the army, not from those who are feeding that army, but from among those who are being fed in the army, and who, although classed as soldiers, have scarcely ever done one day of duty, certainly many of them, not one one hour of fighting since the commencement of the war. Congress may pass laws placing these pets of Generals—quartermasters and surgeons—in the ranks; but there is always a way to avoid the law.

Our people are generally pretty well satisfied of one thing now, and that is, that our army must be recruited. The muster rolls will show an immense army, both under Gens. Lee and Hood, but the morning reports show a lamentable deficiency in men "present for duty." Let the necessary steps be taken immediately for war.—We must get to work in earnest. The times call for active, vigorous measures.

THE SENATORSHIP.—The newspapers at the capital are exercised considerably as to who shall be the successor of Mr. Dortch. Gov. Vance is said to be a candidate. The Wilmington Journal thinks that as Gov. Vance was the man for Governor, he can scarcely be spared. We agree with the Jousnal, and believe that Gov. Vance is now where he should be. The East is entitled to the Senator, and no one could reflect greater honor upon his State and section than George Davis of New Hanover. We trust that he may be elected. He has been a faithful public servant and is eminently qualified for the position. We may refer to this matter again.

The loss of the Advance is a pretty severe blow to our State. She has done noble service for our North Carolina soldiers, and has paid herself twenty times. There are more Clyde built steamers, and North Carolina has money to her credit in Europe. We believe that the State owned but one-third of the Advance.

We do not place much reliance in the Yankee report of the death of General Price. They had General Holmes dead some time ago but he "still lives."

We have received another number of the Bulletin published, as is purported, at "Hog Hill, U. S., Moore County." We find the following hard hit at ourself, which we fully appreciate:

SMART.—The Carolinian pokes fun at the Home Guard. He de durned, what does he know about fighting.

An announcement of a lecture by "Prof. J. H. Roberts," is thus given:

LECTURE.—Prof. J. H Roberts will deliver a lecture to night, upon Hogs, for the benefit of wounded Home Guards.

Admittance 50 cents in specie.

The military situation is thus given: Brig. Gen. Leaventhrop is certainly tall, but his troops undoubtedly have a very high appreciation of him:

THE SITUATION—His been critical for for some days, but looks more promising. We mean to go home.

An old woman and three children were arrested near the front and brought to camp yesterday. They were immediately incarcerated in the Presbyterian church. This was right. It is highly creditable to our troops to have accomplished in 15 days, what was prescribed for sixty It is thought our command will be discharged to-morrow, and our wearied soldiery once more enjoy the repose of home.

The monotony of camp has been greatly relieved to day, owing to the above prisoners, squalling of babies and spanking. It reminded us of home, and was comforting. If we can't catch the men in the woods, take their youngest babies.—This was the plan pursued by Hanibal and Jackson in the Indian wars and by our Northern brethren.

Our Brigadier visited us to-day. He was delighted with the aspect of affairs, and told us keep on doing as we d——d please. He is a splendid officer and seventeen feet high.

Not satisfied with lectures by Professors, the boys are having vocal concerts, as the following will show:

The following touchin ballad was composed by our comrade, J. C. Poe, of the ordnance, and will be sung for the six-thousandth time by him to-night, at the conclusion of the lecture by Prof. Roberts:

BALLAD.

The jay-bird died with whooping cough.
The sparrow died with the colic—
The blue-bird flew till his tail fell off
And that's the end of the frolic.

The former editor of the BULLETIN retires from its management in the following handsome style. Poor fellow, he has had his interests so well guarded that he was compelled to give up the editorial chair.—He is now enjoying the rare advantages of a guard-house life.

Altogether the present number of the BULLETIN is rare and rich in wit and humor, of which the above only affords an imperfect picture. We will continue our extracts from this spicy sheet in a future issue:

VALEDICTORY.—Private misfortunes for which the public feel no sympathy, (in fact we are in the guard house,) have indeed us to relinquish our official relations with this journal. As a faithful chronicler, we have endeavored to do our duty and without the fear of man, and a perfect disregard of hogs, have stood at our post with courage and fidelity during all the trying scenes of this campaign.

Our enemies will rejoice, but even Bunyan was incarcerated for writing the Pilgrim's Progress. We intend to bear it meekly and grimly. Our successor is a worthy man and a good cusser. He was formerly a Doctor, but an ignorant public having refused to recognize him as such, he has assumed the management of this paper to show his contempt. Of his ability as we need say nothing, (in fact we can't.) No man of his acquaintance can say he never owed him. We trust he may be able to maintain the high character of this journal, and preserve its courageous tone and gentility. We commend him to our readers.

When this cruel blast of war which has howled through Moore county for two weeks has subsided, our emaciated frame will once more emerge to confront our foes. In the language of Elijah, "we don't care a d——."

GONE TO EUROPE.—The Hon. Jesse D. Bright, expelled Senator from Indiana, has sold his Kentucky possessions, freed his negroes, given each a sufficient sum of money to commence the world with and has, with his family, gone to Europe, there to remain until after the war.

The Richmond Sentinel has accounts of recruits to our army pouring in from beyond the lines, which are very cheering, but the details of which it would not be prudent to publish. We extend to these brave allies a hearty welcome, and accord to them their merited praise.

Gov. Watts, of Alabama, has convened an extra session of the State Legislature, to meet on the 26 h of the present month.

Sweet potatoes are selling in Petersburg at $16 per peck. Sour potatoes there indeed for our poor soldiers getting $15 per month.

The following romance appears in connection with the

MARRIAGE OF MISS BELLA BOYD.

[From the Liverpool Post Aug. 26.]

Yesterday morning a most interesting ceremony of marriage took place at the Church of St. James', Piccadilly. The bridegroom, Lt. Samuel Wylde Hardinge, who is about 30 years of age, was an officer in the United States Navy, holding the rank of Lieutenant on board the American war-steamer Connecticut. The lady, who is about the same age as the gallant bridegroom, was the daughter of Gen. Boyd, of the Army of the Southern States, who lately expired in prison, having been made prisoner by the Federals. The lady's career is full of the most eventful, heroic and romantic features. Her father, Gen. Boyd, who possessed vast estates in the territory of Virginia, early embraced the cause of Southern independence, and was soon intrusted with a command, obtaining the rank of General His daughter, the bride, enthusiastically embraced the same cause, followed her father to the field, and accompanied him throughout his campaign with the celebrated Stonewall Jackson, and on two occasions, heroically, as a modern Joan of Arc, led on the troops to battle; she was, however, in a skirmish, captured and made prisoner, and conveyed to Washington, where she was imprisoned.

Here she remained thirteen months, when she was exchanged for Gen. Cochrane, who had been made prisoner by the Confederates. On her return to the South she went on board the Greyhound, Confederate steamer, which was captured by the Federal steamer Connecticut, while running the blockade. Lt. Hardinge was sent on board the Greyhound as prize master, with his young heroine as a prisoner. The result was that they mutually became enamored, and escaped together from the ship, and found their way to this country, the bride having succeeded in withdrawing her lover from his allegiance to the United States flag, and enlisted his symyathies and support for the South. It is the intention of Lt. Hardinge, with his bride, to leave this country at the latter end of September, to run the blockade, and enter the service of the Southern States. The marriage cortege was comparatively private, being confined to the bridesmaid and two or three lady friends, and the bridegroom being attended by a number of American gentlemen connected with the South. After the conclusion of the ceremony, the parties repaired to the Brunswick Hotel, Jermyn street, where the bridegroom has resided since his sojourn in this country, and partook of an elegant dejeuner.

SHALL WE RECAPTURE ATLANTA?—In view of the effect the capture of Atlanta will have at the North, both in checking the growing peace sentiment and rendering more easy the enforcement of the odious draft, the Macon "Telegraph" urges the importance of an effort immediately to recapture Atlanta. Its article is thus concluded:

"To the Government we look, in this emergency, for that vigor of action which it has displayed on former occasions. If it will make the effort the people and soldiery will support it to the utmost extent of their power. We expect it to essay the recapture of Atlanta for we believe that it is aware of its importace both in a strategic and political sight, and with this belief we patiently await the development of the plans of those in authority with out offering a word of censure. It must be done smartly or the hour for action will have passed away with the first fruits of winter."

We find the following sensational piece in the New York Herald, of the 10th:

From Harper's Ferry the Herald learns that authentic accounts had reached there to the effect that all the guerrilla companies in Northwestern Virginia, including Mosby's, (the most notorious of all,) have been ordered to repair forthwith to Richmond, to take part in the grand attack which is now being prepared against Gen. Grant's army. It is said that part of General Hood's defeated Georgia army has already arrived at Richmond for the same purpose. Grant is said to be cool as an iceburg amid all these exciting rumors, and fully prepared for the attack.

EXPELLED BY SHERMAN.—The Macon Telegraph learns that, prior to the evacuation of Atlanta, Sherman sent a flag of truce to Gen. Hood with five officers—a colonel lieutenant-colonel, major and two captains—and a communication which stated that the officers having been heard to utter political opinions inimical to Lincoln and his party which were deemed treasonable, they had been expelled from the Federal lines by his order and sent over to Gen. Hood for such disposition as he thought fit. The five "Copperhead" officers have been sent on to to Richmond.

FROM THE VALLEY.—The Petersburg Express learns from a gentleman who left Winchester on Thursday last, that all was quiet in the Valley, with the exception of occasional cavalry skirmishes. The present location of our army, it is unnecessary to state, but our people may rest assured that it is in the right place.

A correspondence of the New York 'Herald' says that Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, calls Gen. Sheridan's army 'Harper's Weekly," because, as he says it reaches Harper's Ferry once a week.

AMERICAN AFFAIRS IN ENGLAND

The London correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer, under date of the 20th ult, says:

There is a good deal of talk in and about London just now respecting a possible result of the American difficulty, and, however the subject may have originated, it is worth loking at for a moment. This discussion of the questions involved seems to have been simultaneous in various quarters. I find articles on the subject in both friendly and unfriendly papers in England, in the Canadian journals, and even in the Index, the Southern organ in London. At times I am inclined to think that it is the exclusive work of the Southern agents, sympathisers and writers here, who hope by this means to create a new excitement in England, and a fresh diversion in favor of the South Still, the whole affair may be legitimate, and as such I shall treat it.

The American correspondents of some of the London journals, either regular or occasional, and whether writing from America or from London, seem to have all at once come to the conclusion that an early settlement of the American quarrel is likely to take place. The editors of these journals adopt the same view, and even the Index, in its last issue, clearly endorses the proposition. This settlement is also to be a peaceful one. Neither party is to be conquered in war, but each party having abundantly proved to the other that its powers of assault and resistance are about equal, and that combined, they would be irresistible as against other nations, there is to be a mutual cessation of hostilities, a recognition of seperate independence to a certain extent, and an irrevocable alliance, offensive and defensive, as against the rest of the world. Even the Index admits that the conduct of all the European powers has been such that they have no possible claims upon the forbearance or friendship of the South, and that nothing on their part could now restore them to the position they might once have occupied towards the Confederacy.

The first immediate and most important result of this compact between the North and South is to be the prompt revival of the Monroe doctrine, both the wonder and the sneers of all Europe. The common rallying cry of both sections is to be 'America for Americans.' The French, having good naturedly subjugated Mexico, are to be themselves incontinently kicked off the continent, and that rich country is to be annexed to the Southern domain.—On the other hand, Canada is to be added to the empire of the North, and eventually all the British possessions—so that in process of time the American eagle shall spread his wings over no part of the North American continent that does not owe allegiance to one of the two great Confederacies into which the American nation is to be divided. This appears to be the present, and I may add, popular programme.

How far these arrangements are to be carried out, or how soon they are to be inaugurated, remains to be seen. Of only one thing can I claim to speak confidentially.

[For the Carolinian.]

THE STORM.

"From Skiddaw's skirt pale Dian rises slow,
With clouds at first beset that mar her light,
Huge murky forms, on which her beams bestow
Requital strange—a pomp that charms the sight,
But soon, upwheeling towards her Southern height,
Her orb floats freely on the untarnished blue,
While earth drinks in her radiance with delight,
And golden-tressed stars her course pursue."

It was the time of pleasant evenings, when the moon, accompanied by a single star, ascended and rivaled even the brilliant Summer noon in the clear radiance which she dispelled afar, and the weather was of that voluptuous, vernal kind, which called forth all the latent romance of our nature, filling our minds with music, and disposing the young to quote poetry and dream of beauty, that a company of young ladies and gentlemen assembled at the residence of Miss M. A. P.'s, on Rowan street, in the town of Fayetteville, State of North Carolina, for the purpose of enjoying a pleasant moonlight ride, and visiting the lovely and interesting Misses McM., who reside three miles, more or less, from the town Three chariots, drawn by chargers unequalled in speed, to convey 'the party' to the desired place, being in attendance, we were soon arranged under the supervision of military personages' to the comfort and pleasure of all. The 'A No. 1' chariot moved off at a speed which defied the world to equal, containing the precious freight of the beautiful and attractive Misses A. P., M. S. and M. W., and the witty Miss A. W. They were accompanied by Messrs. W. F. C., J. C., D. R and L. R.—young gentlemen possessed of many personal advantages, and 'your most obedient,' who, having no use of his tongue and possessing no personal qualifications, was indebted to the 'beautiful' Miss L. P., who, for the sake of humanity, entertained him with her charming wit and vivacity. What a pity it was that I was so uninteresting! And if the bashfulness which lingered with me could have been banished, who knows what might have been said?

The 'B No. 2' chariot contained the handsome Misses A. C. and M. C. who were accompanied by Dr. H. and Lt A., both agreeable young gentlemen.

The 'C No. 3' slow coach contained the fair and lovely Misses O. S., M. S., and B. V., and Miss M. E., who, possessing dignity which is blended with meekness, added to her lovely disposition, many a 'poor fellow' has said 'to know her is to love her,' etc. These ladies were placed under the care and supervision of Capt P, Lt L, Messrs. R. R., P. R., and N. A, G., all fascinating young gentlemen. Having named all those who were connected with the far famed 's orm party,' we will return to the chariot 'A No. 1,' with which I was directly connected. In high glee we were rolled on rapidly until we came to a 'position' which baffled the solution of all; but the 'compass' was brought forth, and the 'needle' gave the desired information, when with a good pilot, whose services were secured on the 'route,' we were safely landed. Appearing in sight of the fortified position, slowly we passed up the long 'avenue' until a favorable position was gained, when not 'the ram's horns of Jericho' were sounded, but melodious strains as 'twere from fairy land burst forth in plaintive accents, 'Oh! wake while I touch my guitar.'

The 'flag of truce' was sent, an armistice agreed to, and all met with a warm reception. Relating our adventures during our trip to Misses L. and M. McM. and enjoying their conversation, the time passed away exceedingly pleasant During the evening Miss M. McM. gave us music, which received the applause and drew forth the admiration of all.

Miss L. McM., Miss A. C. and Miss O. S., sang several pieces very beautifully, and the man who says they are not perfect in all the rudiments of music, I would say to he is no judge. Pleasant promenades were next taken and while enjoying the fascinating society of our fair companions, the hours passed in rapid flight, seeming as but minutes, and every one seemed to be in their full glory; at least, such was my case when it was announced by the hostess that the armistice had ended, and challenged for the fight immediately; before knowing how the battle was to be fought, we came in contact with some bomb-shells which were bursting in all quarters, but the "storming party" being old veterans, stood their ground well; now came the canister and shot in such force we were compelled to acknowledge a defeat, and retired in good order. Singular it may seem, but no one was hurt on either side. The hour had now arrived for our departure, and bidding the Misses McM. good morning, &c., we were soon on our way "home-ward-bound." A nice time we had coming home. Our "chariot" was soon at the 'mile branch,' where it was concluded that we would stop for the 'slow coach.' At this place Miss A. W., lost her 'cuff' and all were eager to find it, it being so beautiful, &c. Ahem! The 'slow coach' arrived in due time, and we came into the 'old burg' serenading its inhabitants.

The members of 'A No. 1' were immediately escorted home, and the gentlemen retired to a 'pump' to quench their thirst, and to talk over the 'haps and mishaps' of the trip, until a proposition was made that we would retire and secure some rest, which was acceded to.

In the name of the 'storming party' we return many thanks to Capt. McG., for the loan of his chariots and chargers.

Attention! Storming party! may the recollection of the past be pleasant; the present pleasing and the future successful. Right face—arms a port—dismissed.
